History

Prehistoric migration

Section A: Key vocabulary

Migration	Moving from one place to another.
Migrant	Somebody who moves from one place to another.
Hominin	A member of the biological family including modern humans as well as extinct humans species.
Homo sapiens	Modern humans (us).
Archaeology	The study of things people made, used, and left behind.
Prehistoric	From a time before writing.
B.C.	Before Christ	The traditional way of counting years.
A.D.	Anno Domini ('the year of Our Lord')
Technology	The use of knowledge to invent new devices or tools.
Artefact	Objects that are made, used, or modified by humans and give us information about life in the past.

Prehistoric time periods

Archaeologists have given names to different time periods in prehistoric Britain. These aren't the names people used at the time! (Why don't we know what people called themselves back then?)

Palaeolithic (Early Stone Age)
1 million BC to 8,000 BC

Mesolithic (Middle Stone Age)
8,000 BC to 4,500 BC

Neolithic (Late Stone Age)
4,000 BC to 2,500 BC

Bronze Age
2,500 BC to 800 BC

Iron Age
800 BC to AD 43

An unknown migrant from an unknown hominin species around left this footprint 850,000 years ago. It was discovered in Happisburgh in eastern England. It is the oldest footprint in Britain.

Cheddar Man is the name given by archaeologists to the oldest Homo sapiens skeleton found in Britain. He lived around 7100 B.C. and appears to have died a violent death. His DNA suggests he had dark brown skin and blue eyes.

The Amesbury Archer is the name given to the remains of a man who lived around 2300 B.C. He had bronzemaking tools with him. Analysis of the skeleton shows he was born in the area that is now Switzerland.

Head of Modern Foreign Languages

MFL at Oldfield

What languages will my child learn at Key Stage 3?

- * Year 7: 6 lessons of either French or Spanish over 2 weeks
- * Year 8: 2 dual linguist groups given the chance to learn the other language based on Y7 data & teacher feedback. All other students will continue to learn the language they started in Y7.
- * Year 9: As Year 8 with reviews of groups based on Y8 data & teacher feedback
- * GCSE: Choice to carry on language(s) learnt in Y7-9
- * A level: Opt if studied at GCSE and achieved Grade 6+

How can I help my child progress in languages?

- * 4 skills – listening, speaking, reading writing
- * Let them teach YOU – ‘teach me 3 new words’
- * Test them on vocabulary for tests or just keep helping them go over recently learnt words. Termly Knowledge Organisers contain all the key words!
- * Encourage them to use FREE well-designed learning websites Quizlet, Memrise, Fluencia, language-gym, Duolingo
- * Suggest they follow the monthly French or Spanish music charts
- * Borrow or watch their own films and put on the French/Spanish subtitles (Disney for instance)
- * Look out for groups like Kevin Karla y la Banda on Youtube – they translate popular English songs into Spanish or Sara’h (French songs with lyric videos)
- * Use ‘Lyricstraining’ website to listen to songs like ‘Let it go’ and they have to fill the gaps
